 LARGEMOUTHS Lake Okeechobee Tips: The spawn should be in full swing, and anglers will find bass in shallow vegetation in less than 5 feet of water. Weedless soft plastics and topwater plugs are local favorites.	 LARGEMOUTHS Lake Weohyakapka Tips: Spawning bass will be found from the outside of the bulrush line to the shore. Weedless soft plastics, spoons and spinnerbaits are top lure choices.	 LARGEMOUTHS Lake George Tips: Anglers will find bass inside grass lines where eelgrass and dollar bonnets meet. Soft plastics and spinnerbaits are effective offerings.	 SEATROUT Jacksonville Area Tips: Look for big trout along grass lines and rock breakwalls on a rising tide. Topwater lures, plastic jerkbaits and jigs often outproduce live bait.	 SEATROUT Horseshoe Beach Tips: Start on outside grassbeds on low tide and follow the rising water into the backwaters. Standard trout baits work, but a rattling cork tipped with a jig is a local favorite.	 GROUPE New Port Richey Tips: Numerous live bottom areas and rock ledges exist within two to seven miles of the coast and open up grouper fishing to anglers in smaller boats. Live pinfish are effective baits on stout tackle.

 TARPON Boca Grande Pass Tips: Drifting the pass with live bait or jigs is the standard tactic, but first-time visitors are well advised to obtain the services of a guide to show them the ropes.	 REDFISH Cedar Key Tips: Redfish move up to the edges of grass lines and oyster bars on rising water and drop back to deeper potholes with the falling tide. Lures and finger mullet are productive baits.	 LARGEMOUTHS West Lake Tohopekaliga Tips: Topwater plugs and jerkbaits fished around mid-lake hydrilla beds can produce big bass this month. The morning and evening hours are prime times.	 FLOUNDER First Coast Inlets Tips: Fish tight to the manmade structure close to the inlet mouths. The rising tide is often best, and the bait of choice is a live finger mullet on a Carolina rig.	 LARGEMOUTHS Lake Talquin Tips: Look for bass on main-lake points and following migrating shad schools into major creek arms. Crankbaits and top-water lures are deadly.	 SAILFISH Fort Lauderdale Tips: Slow-trolling live bait along the dropoff in "Sailfish Alley" is a solid tactic for tangling with these nearshore billfish this month.
